Of the Rain-bow: Whence it is, and what it ſignifieth.

WHen the Rain-bow is clear then ſhall it not be long clear after, which betokeneth a Winter Air or Rain.

When a Rain-bow is ſeen in the morning it betokeneth Rain the ſame day, and a great boiſterous ſtorm.

When the Rain-bow doth appear about three or four of the Clock in the Afternoon, it betokeneth Fair Weather, and there ſhall be againſt it a ſtrong Dew. When there doth a Rain-bow appear about noon, it betokeneth much Water; when the Rain-bow doth appear about the going down of the Sun, then doth it for the moſt part Thunder and Rain; when it appeareth in the Orient, then followeth fair weather.

When the Rain-bow appeareth in boiſterous Weather in the north, it betokeneth fair weather and clear; and contrariwiſe when it appeareth and is ſeen with a clear ſummer Weather in the Weſt, or at noon, it followeth Rain; Hayly ſaith, when the Rain-bow appeareth in fair and clear weather, it betokeneth increaſe of raw weather, and in the Winter it betokeneth leſs.

Pliny ſaith the Rainbow is made by the Sun Beams ſtriking upon a hollow cloud when their edge is repelled and beaten back againſt the Sun, and thus ariſeth variety of colours by the mixture of Air & fire together

Of Thunder and Lightning.

WHen in the time of Winter, the Sun is in Capricornus and Aquarius especially from Lucy until the tenth of January, if the Thunder be heard, then shall it be from the beginning of the Lightning throughout the whole year more windy than any other year is. When in Summer it Thundereth more than it Lighteneth, it is a sign of Wind that shall come from the same place whence the Thunder cometh; but if there be seen more Lightning than is heard of Thunder, then shall the Wind come from the place where the Lightning is seen. When it Thundereth early it betokeneth Wind and Rain to come that Day. &c.

Of the Rain-bow: Whence it is, and what it ſignifieth.

WHen the Rain-bow is clear then ſhall it not be long clear after, which betokeneth a Winter Air or Rain.

When a Rain-bow is ſeen in the morning it betokeneth Rain the ſame day, and a great boiſterous ſtorm.

When the Rain-bow doth appear about three or four of the Clock in the Afternoon, it betokeneth Fair Weather, and there ſhall be againſt it a ſtrong Dew. When there doth a Rain-bow appear about noon, it betokeneth much Water; when the Rain-bow doth appear about the going down of the Sun, then doth it for the moſt part Thunder and Ra[illegible] Orien[illegible]

Of Thunder and Lightning.

WHen in the time of Winter, the Sun is in Capricornus and Aquarius especially from Lucy until the tenth of January, if the Thunder be heard, then shall it be from the beginning of the Lightning throughout the whole year more windy than any other year is. When in Summer it Thundereth more than it Lighteneth, it is a sign of Wind that shall come from the same place whence the Thunder cometh; but if there be seen more Lightning than is heard of Thunder, then shall the Wind come from the place where the Lightning is seen. When it Thundereth early betokeneth Wind and Rain to come that day: &c.

with her the Inventory of her Goods the Summ of her Dowry perpetually in her mouth, and alwayes to be arm'd with the praiſe of the Deceaſed:

And he who is with ſuch a widow matcht,
He in the marriage nooſe is finely catcht,

Then may he ſing the hen-peckt husbands ſong,

Like a dog with a bottle ty'd cloſe to his tail,
Like a Tory 'n a Bog, or a thief in a Jayl.

Now Mars & Mercury are in a friendly Conjunction with Venus, which may invite many young people to enter into the marriage-ſtate: and indeed a wife is no Curſe when ſhe brings the bleſſing of a good eſtate with her: but to marry a Town-flurt with a painted face, a rotten reputation, & a craſie fortune, that man had better go to hanging than be ſo married But if you will take my advice in the choice of a wife, I will give it you freely; and that you may the better keep it in memory, take it Alphabetically: Let her be Amiable, Beautiful, Chaſt, Delicate, Excellent, Fair, Gracious, Honeſt, Induſtrious, Kind, Loving, Merry, Neat. Obedient, Pittiful, Quiet, Rich, Shame-fac'd, Temperate, Vertuous, Witty, Youthful, and Zealous.

And thoſe who with theſe properties are ſped,
You ſhall not need to fear with them to wed.

But that which makes moſt for our purpoſe, is that Venus is in her Altitude, a great ſign that Whores will be very impudent, and ſtand ſo high upon terms, that poor men in ſo eaſily purchaſe the Pox as the rich; but Whores be as dear & as ſcarce as they will, if that Rum be but cheap & plentiful we care not.

A Quart of Rum well burned,
And drank to Bed-ward wholly,
I dare be bold doth cure the Cold,
And purgeth Melancholly.

So much for Rum: but the chief matter is to get money to buy it, without which, a wiſe man is counted a fool, and having ſtore of it, the Fool is reckoned a wiſe man; according as the Poet wittily expreſſeth it:

Whoſe rich? the wiſe, whoſe poor? the fooliſh man
If I were wiſe, I ſhould have Riches then.
Whoſe wiſe? the rich, & who's a fool? the poor.
If I were rich, I ſhould be wiſe therefore.

We ſhall conclude our Predictions with ſome Obſervations on St. Paul's day.

If St. Pauls day be fair and clear,
Then will the Wayes more clean appear,
But if it chance to ſnow or rain,
The Wayes will dirty be again;
And if the Winds aloft ſhould be,
Then tumble down will many a Tree
But if there be no wind at all,
The Trees may ſtand, and ſo not fall.

With Allowance.

FINIS.
